BON COURAGE

Located in the heart of the beautiful Robertson valley lies Bon Courage Estate, home to some of South Africa's finest locally and internationally recognised wines. The stately Cape Dutch homestead dates back to 1818 and the housed three generations of the Bruwer family since 1927.

The Robertson wine region is today renowned for exceptional wines as a result of the ideal soil and climatic conditions that prevail in this region. Three rivers runs through the estate and have, over the years, deposited a variety of different soil types on the farm. As a result, a wide range of grape varietals can thrive in the same area.

CAPE TOWN GIN

The Cape Town Gin & Spirits Company (est. 2015) launched the Cape Town Gin brand as a truly South African gin. Distilled and bottled locally, their gins have a distinctly South African flavour and celebrate the vibrant diversity and inspiring creative energy of Cape Town.

To say Cape Town Gin & Spirits Company is passionate about Cape Town, and South Africa at large, would be an understatement. It goes beyond that – after all, the brand and place are one and the same. In fact, the varietals are even inspired by the city – such as the Pink Lady Gin, named after the famous Cape Town landmark, the Mount Nelson Hotel.
